Student Payroll Delayed ; Next Checks Here By 25th

The college payroll for students working under the work-study program for September 1 through 15, was delayed.

This delay was partly due to the attempt of the State Department of Administration to handle the student work-study payroll on a semi-monthly basis. They have found there is not enough time between payrolls to process the next payroll.

The college will return to a monthly earning period after October 1. There will probably be one more delay of the work-study payroll for the last two weeks of September.

The October payroll is expected to be made just before Thanksgiving recess. There should be no further delay thereafter, and the monthly payroll will be made about the 25th of each month during the school year.

David Anderson, Financial Aid Officer, says, "I do think that we will get on a regular schedule soon so that students can be paid when they expect to be paid. It is important that the students be paid when they expect to be paid as the employees expect the students to be on time also."

MSC To Hear Novelist Vidal

Gore Vidal, novelist, playwright, critic and political sharpshooter, will appear at the second Moorhead State convocation of the year in the Center for the Arts.

He published his first novel at the age of 19 and has continued to write since that time.

In 1964, after spending ten years writing for television, stage and screen, he returned to his first love, fiction, with the publication of the novel Julian.

In 1960, Vidal entered politics actively, running for Congress from New York's highly Republican 29th District. He polled more votes than any Democrat since 1910 and ran ahead of President Kennedy by 20,000 votes.

His essays continue to appear in the New York Review of Books, Book Week and the Sunday New York Times. His latest film adaptations include IS PARIS BURNING and THE NIGHT OF THE GENERALS.

Senorita Karol Queen of Fiesta

Tears, flowers and surprised happiness have never been uncommon at the beginning of the reign of any queen. Homecoming 1966 at Moorhead State was no exception, and Queen Karol Askelson reacted as have her predecessors at the coronation Wednesday night.

Queen Karol is a senior from Gary who has majors in art and elementary education. She has been active in band and stage-band work, is president of Alpha Delta Pi sorority, has been a Freshman Week counselor and sweetheart for the Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Attendants to the queen are Sandy Anderson, Karen Breitbach, Sue Gibbons and Sheryl Hetland.

Sandy, senior from Lisbon, North Dakota, has been a cheerleader for four years, a dormitory officer, member of Kappa Delta Pi, German Club, WRA, and has also served as a Freshman Week counselor.

Karen is a math major from Osage. She is a member of the Alpha Phi sorority, has been active in residence hall government and has also served on the Dragon staff.

Sue is a senior from Crookston. She has been a cheerleader for four years and has also been active in the government of the residence halls, primarily Dahl.

Sheryl, junior from Halstad, has been a cheerleader for three years, a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority, senator-at-large in the MSC Student Senate, dormitory officer, Freshman Week counselor, and is serving on a Homecoming committee.

Dr. Clarence A. Glasrud, a 1934 graduate, was named 1966 Alumni King by the MSC Alumni Association. "Soc" has been a member of the MSC faculty for 19 years.

He came to MSC as publications advisor and instructor in journalism and American Literature. Dr. Glasrud has since become chairman of the English Department.

Wednesday activities also features a concert by the Back Porch Majority.

This group began as a "farm team" for the New Christy Minstrels. The "bull pen" of the experiment was called the Back Porch, and thus the group got its name.

Yesterday was left free of activities to enable the various organizations to complete work on their floats. Every organization was urged to enter a float to make to parade representative. The floats, following the theme of "The Spanish Conquistadors" will be judged prior to and during this evening's parade through downtown Moorhead.

After the parade there will be a pep fest, bonfire and snake dance in the area between Snarr and Grantham Halls. The Ugliers will provide the music for the evening dance.

Pre-game entertainment and half-time fun will be a part of the attraction at Saturday's football game. The MSC Dragons will tangle with the Bemidji State Lumberjacks at 2:00 p.m. at Alex Nemzek Field.

The Alumni will meet for dinner and a social hour at the Holiday Inn in Moorhead at 5:30 p.m.

The culmination of the week's events will be the annual Homecoming Dance at the Top of the Mart from 9:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. The Moon Misters, a big band sound from St. John's University at Collegeville will provide the dancing music.

Rights Commission To Meet at MSC

Governor Karl Rolvaag has announced that his Human Rights Commission and other state and regional human relations agencies will sponsor a statewide conference for higher education administrators at Moorhead State College.

"The Need for Teacher Training in Intergroup Relations" will be explored by this group Oct. 25 at a conference in the Center for the Arts. Governor Rolvaag will give welcoming remarks at the opening session.

Dr. Melvin Tumin, professor of sociology at Princeton University will give the keynote address at 10:00 a.m.

President John J. Neumaier, conference chairman, will speak on "Minnesota's Challenge" at the noon luncheon in Kise Commons. "What Colleges Are Doing in Preparing Teachers in Intergroup Relations" will be the subject of a speech given by Dr. Robert Havighurst, Department of Educational Development, University of Chicago, at 1:30 p.m.

A reactor's panel for Dr. Tumin's address includes Duane Matthies, commissioner of education for Minnesota; Dr. Edward Henry, chairman of the Department of Political Science, St. John's University, Collegeville; and Dr. Gisela Konopka, School of Social Work, University of Minnesota.

The reactor's panel for Dr. Havighurst's afternoon address will include Dr. Norma Jean Anderson, human relations specialist, St. Paul Public Schools; Dr. Ayers Bagley, School of Education, University of Minnesota; Dr. Matthew Stark, coordinator of human relations programs, University of Minnesota; and Lawrence Borom, executive director, Governor's Human Rights Commission.

Leaders for other afternoon group discussions will include Mrs. Barbara Knutson, professor of sociology, University of Minnesota; Miss Lillian Anthony, regional director, Neighborhood Youth Corps; Dr. James Condell, chairman of the Department of Psychology, MSC; Robert Williams, executive director, Minneapolis Urban League; Arthur McWatt, social studies teacher, St. Paul Public Schools; Paul Anderson, director, Social Research Center, Augsburg College, St. Paul; and Dr. Frank Wilderson, Department of Educational Psychology, University of Minnesota.

Dr. David Brown, associate professor of economics at the University of North Carolina, who is on temporary assignment with President O. Meredith Wilson, University of Minnesota, will summarize the conference at 4:00 p.m.

The Reverend Thomas Basich, pastor of Advent Lutheran Church, St. Paul, is chairman of the Governor's Human Rights Commission.

'It Never Rains'

Grantham Hall was opened for the first time in the fall of 1965. The building had been erected at a cost of $780,000 and at the time of its initial opening was supposedly complete.

Two hundred and four girls moved into the new residence hall in the fall of 1965. The halls in the stairways were not yet painted, but most of the new residents tended to forgive and forget as a testimonial of their faith in the powers that be.

October 8, 1966 the dormitory was formally dedicated at a late afternoon ceremony featuring many of the people who had been involved in its construction. Following the ceremony, tours of the hall took place. Several faculty members and other visitors were heard to comment on the state of the halls in the stairways. It seems that a coat or two of paint was missing.

Last Friday, the rains came down and the floods went up. The ark had not been sealed very well, and the animals got wet.

Residents of the new--or nearly new--Grantham Hall, especially those on the north side of the building, awoke to find water streaming across, under and around themselves and their belongings. The puddles were finally mopped up and the situation was well under control until the next time.

There hasn't been a blizzard yet or any invading hordes of wild animals. But then Grantham Hall is probably ready for anything.

THE SANDBOX

By Tom Sand

I was relaxing at the Ken Warner home the other night, partaking of the good juice (butter milk) and trying to solve everyone's problems. Through catharsis all save one were eliminated. For that, gentle reader, your help is needed.

The problem is CONVIVIO. That's our yearly scholarly journal that publishes brilliant essays, poetry and short stories by students, alumni and faculty.

First the editor, Ken Warner, needs a staff. He wants people from all classes. He especially interested in freshmen, sophomores and juniors who can gain experience and help in future years. This is not a project limited to the English Department. People from all fields are wanted to help edit and judge the diverse materials submitted. If you help it may even come out on time this year.

Secondly they need material. It can be short stories, poems, plays or essays. Scientific papers, criticism, your theories on history, economics, political science or sex will all be considered. Each manuscript submitted will be analyzed and the author will receive a criticism to help him in the future. Accepted or rejected you can't help but learn something.

So run right down to your nearest CONVIVIO representative and volunteer. Contact Margo Warner (M204), Bernard Heringman (M245C) or Judy Poseley (233-7858). If you can't find them stop in the MISTIC office and see me. I'll be way over there in the corner by that orange stuff.

Reflections. . .

...On the Professor

(Editors Note: The following article is a reprint of an article in the July 11, 1966 issue of THE NATIONAL OBSERVER.)

With more and more college professors in the land because of the rise in enrollments, one may move into your neighborhood this summer, if several don't live there already. So you should know what to expect.

When you see a professor around the supermarket at queer times of the day, for example, you'll be tempted to think he's loafing or playing hooky from the job. It isn't necessarily so. He may saunter down the street at 11 o'clock in the morning, toting a brief case. It looks as if he's just starting his day at that comfortable hour. Don't be so sure. It's just circumstantial evidence.

Here are some of the natural questions you may have about professors and their odd way of life.

Q. What does he really have in that briefcase?

A. 1. Lunch. 2. A note to pick up the repaired coffee warmer downtown. 3. Corrected quiz papers. 4. The coffee warmer, still unrepaired, for he hasn't told his wife that it hasn't been taken in yet. 5. Nine unanswered letters, now on their fifth trip back and forth.

Q. Why doesn't he leave at 7 or 8 in the morning and come home at 5:30 or 6 like a normal man?

A. He'd never get much work done if he did. He has to prepare lectures, grade papers, answer letters without a secretary, compile reports, counsel students, teach classes, serve on committees, keep his office in order (including dusting it), and much, much more, like a coffee break. He's interrupted so often he brings a lot of his work home. He's bothered there too, but not so much.

Q. Then how can he be at the supermarket at 10 a.m. some days, and mow the lawn at 2 p.m. on others?

A. It's that crazy split schedule of his. He has classes at only certain hours of each day and no two days may be alike. And then there's evening class work some semesters. On some days he has lunch at 10:30 and on others at 2. Then he has to sandwich in his office hours. So on a day when he has his first class at 11 a.m., he can help his wife by going to the market for her at 9:30.

Q. He seems to be reading a lot of the time. What in the world does he read?

A. Sometimes it's one of the kids, comic books. But most of the titles are easy stuff like "The Measured Effectiveness of the Electronic Numerical Integrator and Computer" or "The Basic Factors in the Collapse of Cotton Tenancy in the South, 1852-1853". He's appreciate the gift of a cheap copy of "Up the Down Staircase."

Q. Why doesn't he take that coffee warmer in?

A. Well, it's like this. He wants to, but it means going downtown and he just doesn't seem to be able to fit the trip into his routine. Just as he starts out of the office door, for instance, someone comes in. Usually it's a student. The kid is flunking; he wants someone to show him how to study without studying. Ninety minutes later he tries to leave the office once more. This time it's the dean who stops him in the corridor. There's a visitor from Indonesia. Has he a few minutes. . .? One professor we know sees a sign pinned to the back of his coat when he takes it off; about every three weeks this happens. It reads: "Get your hair cut." His wife puts it there.

Brown, Eckhoff Head KMSC Radio Staff

"KMSC will be bigger and better than ever this year," stated Betsy Opsahl, publicity director for the station. "We are adding a booster which will give the station more power and we are going all out. There will be a KMSC day and we hope at least three-days of continual broadcasting."

KMSC, is broadcasting from 3:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. Monday through Friday and from 7:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. Sundays, according to Fred Brown, student advisor.

During these hours students enrolled in radiocraft courses are KMSC Dee Jays. This involves running the console, following a log and spinning discs. The Dee Jays also have request programs. "We would like lots of requests," says Dave Prentice who is on from 11:00 p.m. - 1:00 a.m. Wednesday nights.

KMSC is owned, operated and staffed by students of Moorhead State College. It is governed by a staff of former radio-craft members. The staff this year consists of F. Dennis Lynch, faculty advisor; Fred Brown, student advisor; Wayne M. Eckhoff, station manager; Clyde D. Wolf, chief engineer; Scott Onstine, program director; Dean Bell, news and advertising; David Sanasack, sports; B. Erik Swee, assistant engineer; Betsy Opsahl, publicity; Bernard Arcand, maintenance.

Bits and Pieces

Dr. Robert MacLeod, Moorhead State College registrar, has announced enrollment figures for fall quarter of 1966.

There are 1513 freshmen, 812 sophomores, 563 juniors, 421 seniors and 51 graduate students who are going to school full-time. Part-time students include 32 freshmen, 19 sophomores, 39 juniors, 48 seniors and 203 graduate students. These students add up to a total of 3701.

Thirty of these are from foreign, 651 from states rather than Minnesota and 3020 from Minnesota.

There are 2064 men enrolled for the fall term and 1637 women.

Jean LeVander, 22 year old daughter of Republican gubernatorial candidate Harold LeVander, will meet students and faculty on her tour of the MSC campus on Wednesday morning October 26. Jean will make appearances at both Moorhead State and Concordia Colleges on behalf of her father's candidacy for governor of Minnesota.

Dr. Richard Reed, director of counseling, announces that transfer students who took the Minnesota Counseling Inventory Test during Orientation Week may review their scores on Friday, Oct. 21 at 3:00 p.m. in Weld Auditorium.

Monday, Oct. 24, at 2:00 p.m.; and Tuesday, Oct. 25, at 3:00 p.m.; freshman scores may be reviewed in Weld Auditorium. Freshmen may also see their scores on Wednesday, Oct. 26 from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. in the Center for the Arts auditorium.

Spurs, a national service organization, is being established at MSC this fall by Nan Mickelson, Davenport, N.D. Sophomore, and Sue Corwin, Ulen sophomore.

Spurs are selected from the sophomore women who have maintained a GPA of at least 2.5 during their freshman year and have shown an interest in the well-being of their college.

"At Your Service" is the motto of this group, and members are called upon throughout the year to help the college. Plans are now being made to contact department heads and offer services, work with Circle K on worthwhile projects and raise money for the Regional Convention which will be held in Montana.

Dr. Maude Wenck, professor of music at Moorhead State College, was injured in an automobile accident last week.

Dr. Wenck was on her way back to Moorhead from teaching an extension course at Detroit Lakes. Since her car rolled over several times, she was badly shaken up, but her chief injury was a broken arm.

The Epsilon Alpha chapter of the Alpha Delta Pi sorority has announced the following pledges from fall rush: Carole Bohnsack, Dawson; Mary Dablow, Breckenridge; Gerry Evenson, Pelican Rapids; Mary Frank, Fargo; Sandy Honzo, Dumont; Sue Karley, Moorhead; Nancy Peterson, Canby; and Mary Lee Pfeifer, Moorhead.

Pi Kappa Delta, a speech honorary fraternity, elected its officers for the year 1966-67. Those elected were: President, Tom Hanson; Vice President, Dave Gabrielson; Secretary-Treasurer, Diane Bergeson. Membership in the Pi Kappa Delta can be attained by performing at the intercollegiate level in discussion, debate, oratory, oral interp, or extempore speaking.

A Xerox 914 copying machine will soon be available for service in the library. The money behind the project is, however, private and those who make use of the machine must pay.

It is hoped, according to Bernard Gill, librarian, that the volume of copying will increase enough to pay for the rental, supplies and service.

The Theta Nu chapter of the Delta Zeta sorority recently gave a tea honoring the new faculty, department heads and faculty associates.

The DZ's have also held their fall rush. The following girls were pledged: Lois Bohn, Wahpeton, No. Dak.; Sue Foss, Moorhead; Sue Graves, Alexandria; Mary Rausch, Fargo; Francine Ree, Foxhome and Barb Stoltenow, Litchfield.

The second photographic exhibit of the year opens at Moorhead State College Nov. 1. PHOTOGRAPHS BY WYNN BULLOCK, presented by the Department of Mass Communication, will be on display in the lobby of Livingston Lord Library until Nov. 31.

The 25 photographs in this exhibition were made by Wynn Bullock between the years 1952 and 1962. Bullock's preoccupation for many years has been the concept of space-time and its vital relation to the picture-making experience: "...the perception of DURATION which gives order and measure to the meaning of visual events..."

"...There is nothing mysterious about space-time. Every speck of matter, every idea, is a space-time event. We cannot experience anything or conceive of anything that exists outside of space-time. Just as experience precedes all awareness and creative expression, the visual language of our photographs should ever more strongly express the fourth dimensional structure of the real world...."

Other exhibits scheduled are:

Jan. 2 - Jan. 31, MSC Students.

Feb. 1 - Feb. 28, John Huston.

March 1 - March 15, Professional Photographers of America.

March 15 - April 15, Six Contemporary Photographers.

April 17 - April 29, MSC Camera Club Contest.

May 1 - May 31, Harry Callahan.

O'Meara's

F-M Area Shakes Kennedy Hand

By Jane Thompson

A screaming sub-teen rushed into the Hotel Gardner on Saturday at 10:41 a.m. "I shook hands with him. I actually shook hands with the senator!"

Two older Democrats stood in the lobby waiting for a glimpse of the junior senator from Massachusetts to step out of the limousine into the brisk October air. "That's what we need, more youngsters interested in politics!"

I laughed to myself when I thought, "I wonder if it's politics or that Kennedy touch?"

Flashbulbs flashed and members of the Century Club eagerly held out their hands to shake the hand of Senator Edward Kennedy, one hour late because of blizzard conditions in Minneapolis. His stop at the Graver Inn (where he spoke to the Young Democrats) made his anxious devotees even more impatient.

Kennedy amiably made his way through the crowd of small autograph hunters to the Press Conference in Parlor B of the Gardner basement. His secretary preceded him into the room and announced, "Ladies and gentlemen of the press, Senator Edward Kennedy." A round of applause greeted him and the movie cameras immediately started rolling.

His prepared speech was considerably longer than expected and touched on most subjects that are important during elections.

He remembered the years in which John F. Kennedy had traveled in North Dakota as both senator and president. He hoped that students would make use of the Kennedy Library to which so many have faithfully contributed.

"The tension in the U.S. Legislature is due to the concern over the quality of life in the U. S. I sincerely urge you to support the educational programs which this country needs," was the main theme of his seven-minute statement.

The similarity of the 1960 and 1966 political campaigns, our closely-knit nation, and the War on Poverty were also included in his comments.

When asked whether he would support the War on Poverty rather than some of the established works in effect now, he replied, "When underprivileged Massachusetts children were tested for Operation Headstart, 36% of them identified a teddy bear as a rat, because that is what they are used to. Human Progress must receive top priority through the War on Poverty."

Senator Kennedy did not think that the Minnesota primary mix-up on the Democratic ticket would have any effect in Washington. "Democrats have always been able to pull together. They are holding together well."

The press conference ended, he told us he was glad to see us there, shook hands, and began a conversation when he was pulled away to a coffee hour in another room. As the applause rose and he began shaking hands, the doors closed and I left my first press conference.

MSC Poets Offered $16,000

The fourth annual Kansas City Poetry Contests offering $1,600 in prizes and the publication of a book-length manuscript have been announced by Thorpe Menn, literary editor of the Kansas City Star, one of four sponsors of the contests.

Six awards will be offered to college students for single poems in the Hallmark Honor Prize competition, sponsored by Hallmark Cards, Inc., the Kansas City greeting card publisher.

The Dr. Edward A. Devins Award will offer a $500 advance on royalties for a book-length manuscript to be published and distributed by the University of Missouri Press. Both the Hallmark and the Devins awards are offered on a national basis.

All entries will be judged anonymously. Entrants must submit their work with no clue of authorship. The name of the author should be enclosed in a sealed envelope attached to the entry.

Closing date for submission of entries is Feb. 1, 1967. The winners will be announced on April 27, 1967, at the last event of the 1966-67 American Poets' Series at the Jewish Community Center in Kansas City. Complete rules may be obtained by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to: Poetry Contest Directors, P. O. Box 8501, Kansas City, Mo., 64114.

Greeks Enter Into Spirit of Homecoming

An integral part of college life for many students is membership in a sorority or fraternity. Along with social sororities and fraternities, professional fraternities for students in music, industrial arts and education are available.

ALPHA LAMBDA DELTA is the newest honorary sorority at MSC. Its purpose is to promote intelligent living and high standards of learning among freshmen women.

ALPHA DELTA PI is one of the national sororities on campus. The Epsilon Alpha chapter is the one hundred and eighth chapter of ADPI which is the oldest women's sorority in the world.

In November of 1963, the DELTA ZETA sorority became the first national sorority to be established at MSC. The objectives of the sorority include uniting its members together in the bonds of sincere friendship and stimulating one another in the pursuit of knowledge.

The international sorority, GAMMA PHI BETA, was established at MSC in 1964. Founded on Halloween Eve in 1905, the sorority still celebrates its birthday with a Halloween party.

ALPHA PHI, the newest national sorority at Moorhead State was founded locally in 1931. The purpose of the group is to work toward the goals of perfection, democracy and knowledge. Their aim is to create a closely knit group which works together.

The oldest fraternity on campus, the OLD ORDER OF THE OWLS, was organized in 1901. Since that time, around eight hundred men have passed through the two degrees of initiation. Each fall, the Owls hold their traditional Autumn Ball and select a sweetheart.

SIGMA TAU GAMMA fraternity was organized for the purpose of promoting fraternal, campus, social and educational activities on the MSC campus. This fraternity holds an annual White Rose Ball, at which event their chapter sweetheart is selected, and sponsors the annual Sigma Tau Gamma Songfest, proceeds from which go into scholarships.

TAU GAMMA EPSILON, the world's largest social fraternity, has been represented by the Iota Epsilon chapter at MSC since 1962. The highlight of each year's activities is the annual Sweetheart Ball in May.

PHI MU ALPHA SINFONIA is a national professional music brotherhood for men. Their main purpose is to forward the cause of music in America. The members present a concert of American music every spring in connection with this purpose.

The purpose of SIGMA ALPHA IOTA is to promote music throughout the world. A fraternity open to all women who major or minor in music and meet the scholastic standards of the organization. SAI presents an "All American" concert in cooperation with Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia each year.

The IOTA ALPHA is a professional fraternity of future industrial educators. Its objectives are to promote inter-department fraternity, scholarships and professional concepts.

KAPPA DELTA PI is an international honor society in education. Junior and senior members are chosen for their scholastic achievements, character and interest in promoting the field of education.

DELTA PHI DELTA is a national society for women continuing their education. The two purposes of the organization are to help women adjust themselves to academic life and to act as a social organization.

Among the improvements being made in the MSC Bookstore is the addition of a rear entrance. (Photo by Bjornstad.)

Bookstore to Buy Used Books; Other Improvements Added

By the main door of the bookstore, there is a suggestion box. "In this way we can learn what students want and need," announced Earl Wordlaw, bookstore manager. "We would like suggestions for general stock throughout the year."

The bookstore will also buy back any books which will be used next quarter. They will be sold at reduced prices to other students. In December a list of used books will be published on the bulletin board nearest the bookstore. It is hoped that this will bring added savings to the students.

The bookstore staff would also like the faculty and the administration to know that it intends not to induce the sale of used textbooks but only to offer a service to those students, which the record of the college shows, want to sell their books. Ideally all students will retain their books to form their personal libraries, according to Wordlaw.

For student convenience, a back entrance will soon be opened to the Bookstore. Signs will be posted. Bookstore hours are 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Mondays through Fridays, and 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon, Saturdays. Word-law indicated that if students show a need for more hours, they will be provided.

Dragons Challenge Bemidji for NIC Title

Foiled in their chance to capture the Northern Intercollegiate Conference title last weekend, Moorhead State College, starved of the NIC grid championship for 13 years, hosts Bemidji State College Saturday afternoon at 2:00 at Alex Nemzek Field with the league title in the balance. The Homecoming contest with Bemidji affords Moorhead another opportunity at the elusive conference crown. Needing a victory for the championship last weekend, M-State saw its hope of an unbeaten league season vanish in a 6-0 loss at Winona.

Moorhead will carry a 3-1 NIC record into combat this weekend. Bemidji State stands 2-2 in conference play after dropping a 6-0 verdict to Mankato last weekend. It's Mankato, however, that stands the greatest chance of overcoming the Dragons. The Indians, 2-1-1 in loop action thus far, meet disappointing Michigan Tech at Houghton, Mich.

The invading Beavers present a most formidable roadblock for the Dragons to hurdle.

Bemidji possesses one of the league's finest backs in fullback Ron DioGiacomo. The Michigan Ind., senior became the Beaver workhorse last season, carrying over 100 times.

Other backfield standouts for Bemidji are Tom Baron, the solid Beaver halfback who is also being employed as a linebacker this fall. Sal Scaglione, a junior from Lodi, N.J., has been moved to offense for Bemidji and should add considerable ground support as will halfback Ron Johnson.

Defensively, the Beavers are anchored by linebackers Larry Kohler and Evan Simmons and tackle Dan Boettger. BSC also boasts the league top place kicker in Gary Schulke, whose accurate toe has become a dependable weapon in Bemidji's offensive arsenal.

Dragon coach Dwaine Hobek is hopeful that fullback Mike Quirk, the damaging freshman from Chisholm, will return to duty. Quirk missed the Warrior contest last weekend due to a head injury suffered against Mankato.

Battered halfback Marv Walter, nursing painful rib injuries, should also be ready. Walter saw restricted duty against Winona.

Moorhead will encounter the Beaver attack with Bricker Johnsen and Rick Cochran at offensive ends; Dennis Yell and Al Berglund at tackles and Russ Marshall at center. Guard applicants include Joe Bentz, Lee Brennan, Dennis Seymour and Bruce Winther.

Quarterback Bruce Bakeberg and Bob Brophy will start in the backfield with Quirk and Walters, if the two injured Dragon backs are ruled fit for duty this weekend.

Hoberg, however, may make several changes before this weekend. The Dragon head coach was not pleased with the offensive execution last weekend.

The football hopes of Moorhead State College are on the line this weekend. A victory on Saturday would give Moorhead its first outright NIC title and its first share of the title grandeur since 1952, when M-State settled for a tie for the league laurels with St. Cloud State.

Topple Moorhead 6-0 Winona Stops M-State Win Streak

The dormant Dragon offense failed to respond to the challenge of an undefeated Northern Intercollegiate Conference season Saturday night and Moorhead State bowed to Winona 6-0.

A Dragon victory would have clinched the NIC title. Now owning a 3-1 league record, M-State must defeat Bemidji State Saturday for the conference crown.

It was not a contest of offensive brilliance. For the Dragons, it ran their shutout string to seven consecutive quarters without scoring.

After successive league victories over St. Cloud State, Michigan Tech and Mankato, the Dragons were in striking position for an unblemished loop season. Those dreams vanished at Winona Saturday.

Boasting the finest defensive unit in the NIC, Winona challenged the Dragons quickly, electing to kickoff to MSC after winning the toss.

The Dragon offense responded briefly. Moorhead slowly advanced within the Warrior 30 before a costly 15-yard penalty halted the Moorhead threat.

Winona scored their only touchdown late in the first period when powerful freshman Jim Hippie lanced through the Dragons for a three yard score. The kick failed.

Winona wasted another scoring opportunity in the second quarter. On a fourth down and short yardage situation in Dragon territory, an irate Moon Molinari, the Warrior coach, charged a referee for an impromptu conversation.

Obviously in no mood for small talk, the referee handed the Warriors a 15-yard penalty, snuffing out the Warrior bid.

Moorhead's finest opportunity was wasted in the dying minutes of the fourth quarter when a Dragon pass was intercepted by Rick Starzecki on his own goal line. Starzecki intercepted three Dragon passes during the game.

The Dragons totaled 92 yards passing against 125 for Winona. It was that kind of game.

Harriers Enter UND Invitational

The tireless Moorhead State College cross-country squad slogged through snow over the three mile course at Albany last Saturday to claim fourth place in the St. Cloud State Invitational cross-country meet.

Clint Chamberlain, the Twin Valley junior who transferred to Moorhead from Wahpeton School of Science, finished fifth for the Dragons while Ada's Marv Gunderson was 14th.

St. Cloud captured first place with 41 points while Macalester was second with 48. Northern State College was third with 56 and the Dragons followed with 103. Bemidji State was last with 108.

The Huskies' incomparable Van Nelson easily outdistanced competing rivals to place first for St. Cloud State.

On Saturday, October 22, MSC will enter the University of North Dakota Invitational at Grand Forks. On October 29, the Dragons will compete in the Northern Intercollegiate Conference meet at Mankato.
